

OPERATOR COMPLIANCE RISK SCORE

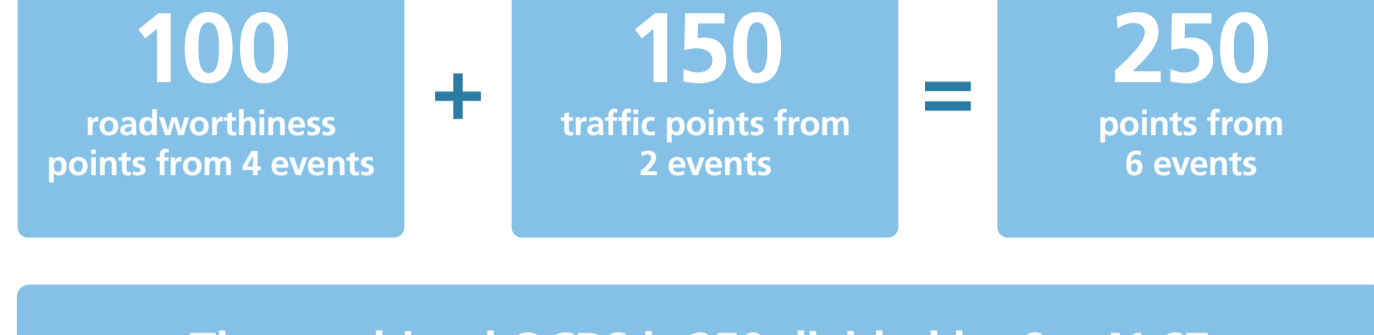

How are scores in the OCRS worked out?

OCRS is based on data collected by DVSA over a 3 year rolling period.

The OCRS system adds the scores given for roadworthiness and traffic offences together to give an overall rating. Operators are able to see the combined score and individual roadworthiness and traffic scores online.

For example

The combined OCRS is 250 divided by 6 = 41.67

OCRS year weightings

Older offences or defects have less impact on road safety, so the points for these reduce over the 3 year period OCRS uses.

The 3 year period is split into 3 blocks of 1 year, with a different weighting for each block.

The 'base score' reduces as offences and defects move from year 1 through to year 3.

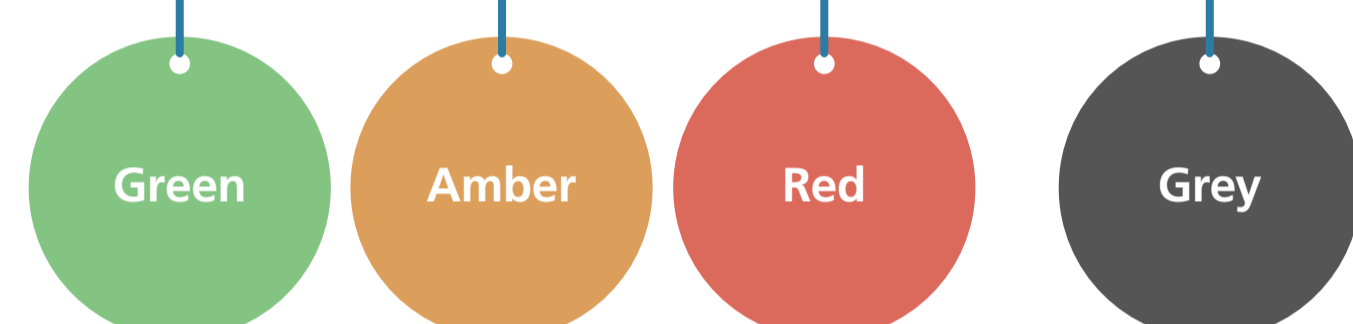

How the score is calculated?

Any events in the last 3 years?

Yes

Year 1 points + (year 2 points x 0.75) + (year 3 points x 0.5) ÷ number of events =

No
